

Team Coach Supervision Training Program 2023

What is the truth that needs to be spoken?

What is the shift that needs to be enabled?

What is the disconnected that needs to be connected?

Renewal Associates
Leadership | Board & Team Coaching | Supervision

What a wonderful experience this was! In learning and in care. I was able to quickly trust the level of awareness and experience which enabled me to show up with vulnerability Paddy Pam Pallis, South Africa - 2022 graduate

By the end of three days, I realized I had learned an astonishing amount of actionable information with the confidence I needed to immediately incorporate systemic team coach supervision skills into my own practice.
Susan Douglas, Ph.D, USA - 2021 graduate

It was one of the most interesting, challenging and well-structured programmes I have attended. The course was extremely well organised, truly global in the faculty as well as the participants and I personally really enjoyed the stretch between the inputs by Peter and the faculty on the one side and the high calibre participants on the other. Overall, as superb programme! Andrew McKichan, Germany - 2022 graduate

Training as a Team Coach Supervisor

Much has been done over the last 20 years to train coach supervisors and also team coaches. However, there is still a global shortage of trained and accredited team coach supervisors. The Global Team Coaching Institute (GTCl) in collaboration with Coaching and Mentoring International (David Clutterbuck Partnership), Renewal Associates and Academy of Executive Coaching (AoEC) have developed criteria for team coach supervisors and are building a global register. Many experienced coach supervisors, as well as experienced team coaches, have requested a short, advanced training specifically on team coach supervision.

In response, Prof Peter Hawkins, who has been training team coaches and coach supervisors for over 20 years, and Dr Catherine Carr, who is an experienced team coach and EMCC accredited Master Team and Individual/Mentor Coach and Individual Coach Supervisor, both a very experienced team coach, trainer, and coach supervisor, are running 3-day advanced team coach supervisor training.

The programme is open to graduates (or nearly graduates) of the AoEC / Renewal one year diploma programme in team coaching, or equivalent programmes with Coaching and Mentoring International (David Clutterbuck Partnership), ORSC or Team Coach International. It is also open to people who are experienced coach supervisors and those who have completed a one-year diploma from the Coaching Supervision Academy (CSA); Henley; Ashridge; Oxford Brookes; Bath Consultancy Group (BCG) or Centre for Supervision Training and Development (CSTD Bath) or equivalent.

This advanced three day programme has been specially designed for experienced Team Coaches and Coach Supervisors, who want to develop their skills in supervising team coaches.

Based on a 3 day module that was run by Bath Consultancy Group, Centre for Supervision Training and Development and Renewal Associates Ltd, as part of the one year Diploma in Coaching Supervision and was in the first group of Coach Supervision trainings to be accredited by EMCC. The training has been further developed to specifically meet the needs for more team coach supervisors, for those undertaking the Global Team Coaching Institute training in Systemic Team Coaching as well as the many people undertaking the AoEC/Renewal Associates Systemic Team Coaching Diplomas, in Europe, North America, South Africa and China.

Peter Hawkins developed the relational and systemic Seven Modes of Supervision Model in 1985. It is now foundational in the field of coach supervision. Peter later developed this into the Ten-Eyed Model of team coaching supervision. This training is an opportunity to work directly with Peter to understand and work with this model, along with other systemic frameworks that he has developed for supervising team coaching.
